The Bulletin

Norwich, Tuesday, January 7, 1919

THE WEATHER
 The air pressure is relatively low over the region of the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi valley and high in all other parts of the country. This pressure distribution has been attended by local snows on the Atlantic coast from the Virginia capes to Cape Cod.

Fair weather was general in all other parts of the United States. The temperature has risen in nearly all parts of the country east of the Rocky Mountains but readings remain much below the normal throughout the east.

The indications are that the disturbance that now is over the upper Mississippi valley will move eastward and be attended by unsettled weather with probably rain or snow Wednesday in the Atlantic states north of Virginia. The temperature will rise Tuesday throughout the Atlantic states. The winds along the north and middle Atlantic will be moderate variable, becoming fresh south, fair.

Forecast.
 New England: Fair and rising temperature Tuesday; Wednesday unsettled and warmer, probably snow.

RETURNING SOLDIERS MAY NEED MENTAL TREATMENT
 Following receipt of a letter from the bureau of war risk insurance of the United States treasury department asking for information as to the number of available beds or vacancies in Connecticut institutions for the insane, the Connecticut State Council of Defense has written the superintendent of the state hospitals for the insane at Norwich and Middletown requesting data.

The request for this information was originally received by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, and was by him turned over to the defense council. The bureau of the bureau of war risk insurance said that with the demobilization now rapidly proceeding there would be discharged a large number of persons suffering from mental diseases, and it would be a problem of the bureau to place these men in suitable institutions. It was considered desirable that these men be returned to their own states.

According to the bureau of war risk insurance, unofficial information had been received that already about 50,000 mental cases were under observation in the army and the matter was felt to be one of considerable importance.

W. C. T. U. WILL PROCEED WITHOUT A PRESIDENT
 The W. C. T. U. held their January meeting Monday at 8 p. m. Mrs. Arthur Wyman presided. The treasurer, Mrs. C. Eugene Saunders, read her report which was approved. Mrs. Fields reported for the nominating committee and the matter was unable to secure a president, they are to appoint leaders, until some one is appointed. The food sale was discussed, and notice will be given of it in the next issue. Mrs. Wyman read a letter from the state president, Mrs. Caroline B. Buell, concerning a petition sent out by the National W. C. T. U. officers for adoption by the local unions to help the French women, and the local union signed it.

The local union mourns the loss of Mrs. J. M. Huntington who in the union's earlier years was one of its most ardent workers, and always kept actively interested in its work until her recent years.

BENEDICT PULLEN LANDS FROM NORTHERN PACIFIC
 Among the last 200 soldiers to be removed from the U. S. S. Northern Pacific which ran aground off Fire Island last week was Private Benedict C. Pullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Pullen of Lincoln avenue, who was wounded in the Argonne drive early in October. Private Pullen was taken to Debarbation Hospital No. 1 at St. George, L. I. DAVIS THEATRE.
 The bill for the first half of the week at Davis Theatre is one of exceptional merit and met the approval of the large houses that patronized the local playhouse on Monday. The feature picture is Lafayette We Come. This picture, in which there is woven a delightful romance, is not a war picture but visualizes the debt the America owed France and which this country, God's country, has so nobly and freely paid. It also shows the new bond of friendship between America and France and the love of France and America which will never die. The care which has been given the boys of America by the French mothers is clearly depicted. The cast is exceptionally well balanced.

The other feature on the bill is Under the Greenwood Tree featuring Elsie Ferguson in a society romance. A Burton Holmes travelogue completes the bill.
